Writing a Competitive Grant Proposal

Friday, January 29 – Saturday, January 30, 2010

RSNA Headquarters

Oak Brook, Illinois

For the third year, the Radiological Society of North America (RSNA) is holding a grant writing program for researchers in radiology, radiation oncology, nuclear medicine, and related sciences who are interested in actively pursuing federal funding.

A limited number of slots are available for this 1½-day intermediate-level course. The course combines didactic and small group interactive sessions and is designed to help radiologic researchers understand and apply the key components of writing a competitive grant proposal. This highly interactive workshop will cover topics including:

- The NIH Grant Review Process – new requirements
- Developing Specific Aims
- Funding Opportunities

Guided by a faculty of leading researchers with extensive experience in all aspects of grant applications and funding, the program will focus on developing realistic expectations of and tools for getting started on the grant process.
