Take in Chicago's vast array of beautiful public art on display 365 days a year. Artists and communities around the world continue the tradition of erecting monuments to commemorate events and people of importance. Chicago is no exception. Monuments were erected in the city before the city's incorporation in 1837, a tradition that continues to the present day. The installation of the Chicago Picasso inspired a cultural renaissance, which evoked a public interest in private and public investment in public art. Chicago has become a "sculpture gallery" displaying works by many world-renowned artists. The city's collection of outdoor sculpture is as distinguished as its world-class architecture. However, public art in Chicago far exceeds sculptures installed in the downtown area. Encompassing all areas of the visual arts, it is exhibited in municipal buildings and neighborhoods citywide. Discover the changing relationships between architecture and sculpture and learn how artists and architects collaborate in creating successful public art.

43. ComedySportz

8:00 p.m. Performance Time

Price per person $30

Location: The ComedySportz Theatre, 929 W. Belmont Ave.

ComedySportz is the longest running short-form improv show in Chicago. Now in its 24th year! It's not stand-up comedy about sports... it's improv comedy played as a sport!

ComedySportz is a completely improvised show in which a red and blue team battle for your laughter. A referee hosts each show and comes to the audience to shout out suggestions and ideas that drive the show! When the show starts, they calibrate their Applause-o-meter and award points to the team that receives the loudest laughs and cheers! At the end of the first half, the team that is behind has to play the most difficult ComedySportz game in the playbook—"5 Thingz".

After a brief intermission, the two teams are back to make you laugh even harder! Audience interaction now becomes extra fun as it's your turn to get on stage! Our improvisers always make the volunteer look like a rock star! Audience Volunteers walk away with a great memory and are rewarded with a ComedySportz Ref Treat. After all of the games have been played, listen for Mr. Voice to announce the winner! Is it the Downtown Chicago Bosses in blue or is it the visiting team in red? Your laughter and cheers determine the winner! Because all of your suggestions are different every night and there are hundreds of games in the ComedySportz playbook, the show is never the same twice! Want to see something funny? Shout out your idea!

(Theater tickets must be picked up at the Palmer House tour desk.

Transportation to the theater is not included.)

NEWLY ADDED FOR MONDAY, DECEMBER 2

44. Chicago Bulls vs. New Orleans Pelicans

7:00 p.m. Game Time

Price per person: $80

Make your way to the house that Michael Jordan built. The United Center is a state of the art sports facility with all the amenities. Thousands flock to the city's West Side for each Bulls home game but it isn't just about watching basketball—it's about experiencing the joy of the game. Past legends like Michael Jordan & Magic Johnson have battled here and future legends entertain every night.

The Bulls made a statement in 2011 by clinching the top seed in the East. Although they fell short to the Miami Heat in the Eastern Conference Finals, they showed that they will be a contender for years to come. Just like any off-season, it is time for teams to reflect on the previous season and find areas to improve. The good thing for Chicago is there isn't much that needs to be done. For the most part the Bulls have a young core of players who are still getting better with each game.

Regardless of the season's record or the night's final score, fans can rest assured that they will leave with a smile on their face.

(Bulls tickets must be picked up at the Palmer House tour Desk. Transportation to the United Center is not included.)
