

Writing a Competitive Grant Proposal Workshop

March 16–17, 2018 | RSNA Headquarters Oak Brook, Illinois

FACULTY MEMBERS:

- ▷ Udo Hoffmann, MD, MPH
- ▷ David M. Schuster, MD
- ▷ Ruth C. Carlos, MD, MS
- ▷ Antonio Sastre, PhD
- ▷ Sridhar Nimmagadda, PhD

This 1½-day, intermediate-level course is for MD and PhD researchers in the field of radiology or related sciences who are pursuing funding from the federal government, foundations or societies. Using a combination of didactic and interactive small group sessions, NIH-funded researchers will provide guidance on writing grant applications, with an emphasis on reviewing your Specific Aims page.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- ▷ Identify the funding opportunities that fit your personal circumstances of career stage, institutional environment, and personal interests.
- ▷ Explain the NIH grant review process and appropriate interactions with NIH program staff.
- ▷ Effectively communicate a research plan on the specific aims page.

ACCREDITATION AND CME CREDIT STATEMENT:

- ▷ The Radiology Society of North America (RSNA) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.
- ▷ The RSNA designates this live activity for a maximum of 9.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
